What others say...

"This is the essence of tech creativity, never before have I worked with a person who managed to pour so much energy and knowledge into a project as Theis. His ability to think on his feet made him the goto guy when you need to develop (or deflate) new ideas or solutions. No matter what you do, how long you've been doing it or even if you've already done it - your project will always benefit when you add Theis to the mix"

Rasmus Holmann Sørensen, developer at Triple LBi and managed by Theis

"Theis has a unique insight in the industry of online marketing, website development and viral communication. And at the same time focused on developing sustainable solutions for all parties involved. Theis is at the same time relaxed and funny to work with, which makes it a pleasure to create business solutions with him. I hope to "do business" with Theis many years forward ..."

Thomas Kragh, internet director at Nykredit and a client working with Theis

"Theis is fantastic to work with because he manages to see everything in complete new ways. He is never satisfied with Standard Operating Procedures and is in constant search for better ways to do everything. His greatest forces is his breathtaking enthusiasm and his ability to apply his talents from other disciplines to his specific tasks."

Andreas Johannsen, cofounder at Synkron and a colleague of Theis

"Working with Theis was hard... the good way! I still miss his passion for exploring new grounds with a strong determination."

Balder Olrik, founder of Goviral and Eisenstein and managed Theis
